NCRA Advocate Engagement Working Group

Function Statement

The NCI Council of Research Advocates (NCRA) Advocate Engagement Working Group will explore ways to better engage advocates in activities to advance research for the benefit of cancer patients. The working group will draw upon the expertise of NCRA members (as well as the larger cancer research advocacy community) to: assess advocacy best practices; recommend processes and resources to better engage advocates in NCI's work; and review and implement relevant recommendations from the Advocates in Research Working Group (ARWG), previously convened by the NCRA. The Advocate Engagement Working Group reports to the NCI Council of Research Advocates.
