A1: Flexible, Integrated Organizational Approach

A1: Flexible, Integrated Organizational Approach

Expansion of CTWG-created Advisory Committee

- “Clinical Trials Advisory Committee” becomes “Clinical and Translational Advisory Committee” (CTAC to CTAC)
 - Efficient “piggy-backing” on existing structure
 - Value in having a single body oversee entire spectrum of early and late translational research
 - Implementation:
 - Charter change to incorporate Translational Research
 - Additional members with translational research expertise

NCI Internal Organizational Changes

- “Clinical Trials Operating Committee” becomes “Clinical and Translational Research Operating Committee” (CTOC to CTROC)
 - Additional representation from the Division of Cancer Biology
 - Additional representation from the Office of Technology Transfer
 - Agenda to focus on CTWG once/month, TRWG once/month
- “Coordinating Center for Clinical Trials” (CCCT) expands to incorporate mission of the Translational Research Support Office (TRSO).
 - Lynn Matrisian (50% IPA)
 - Additional staff

TRWG Report: "Transforming translation - harnessing discovery research for patient and public benefit"

- Coding of grants pilot project in preliminary stages
- Prioritization Process initiation revolves around an NCI-wide Translational Research meeting
- Modification of grant guidelines piggy-backs on CTAC Co-ordination Subcommittee initiatives
- Core services co-ordination as part of CTAC Co-ordination Subcommittee responsibility
